The King's Message to His People on the Silver Jubilee of His Reign

"AT THE CLOSE OF THIS MEMORABLE DAY I MUST SPEAK TO MY PEOPLE EVERYWHERE. YET HOW CAN I EXPRESS WHAT IS IN MY HEART? AS I PASSED THIS MORNING THROUGH CHEERING MULTITUDES TO AND FROM ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL, AS I THOUGHT THERE OF ALL THAT THESE TWENTY-FIVE YEARS HAD BROUGHT TO ME AND MY COUNTRY AND MY EMPIRE, HOW COULD I FAIL TO BE MOST DEEPLY MOVED? WORDS CANNOT EXPRESS MY THOUGHTS AND FEELINGS. I CAN ONLY SAY TO YOU, MY VERY DEAR PEOPLE, THAT THE QUEEN AND I THANK YOU FROM THE DEPTH OF OUR HEARTS FOR ALL THE LOYALTY AND, MAY I SAY, THE LOVE WITH WHICH THIS DAY AND ALWAYS YOU HAVE SURROUNDED US. I DEDICATE MYSELF ANEW TO YOUR SERVICE FOR THE YEARS THAT MAY STILL BE GIVEN TO ME. I LOOK BACK ON THE PAST WITH THANKFULNESS TO GOD. MY PEOPLE AND I HAVE COME THROUGH GREAT TRIALS AND DIFFICULTIES TOGETHER. THEY ARE NOT OVER. IN THE MIDST OF THESE DAYS OF REJOICING I Grieve TO THINK OF THE NUMBERS OF MY PEOPLE WHO ARE STILL WITHOUT WORK. WE OWE TO THEM, AND NOT LEAST TO THOSE SUFFERING FROM ANY FORM OF DISABILTY, ALL THE SYMPATHY AND HELP WE CAN GIVE TO THEM. I HOPE THAT DURING THIS JUBILEE YEAR ALL WHO CAN WILL DO THEIR UTMOST TO FIND THEM WORK AND BRING THEM HOPE. OTHER ANXIETIES MAY BE IN STORE, BUT I AM PERSUADED THAT WITH GOD'S HELP THEY MAY ALL BE OVERCOME IF WE MEET THEM WITH CONFIDENCE, COURAGE AND UNITY. SO I LOOK FORWARD TO THE FUTURE WITH FAITH AND HOPE. IT IS TO THE YOUNG THAT THE FUTURE BE BE HELPED, IN BODY, MIND AND CHARACTER, TO BECOME USEFUL CITIZENS. TO THE CHILDREN I WOULD LIKE TO SEND A SPECIAL MESSAGE. LET ME SAY THIS TO EACH OF THOSE WHOM MY WORDS MAY REACH. THE KING IS SPEAKING TO YOU. I ASK YOU TO REMEMBER THAT IN DAYS TO COME YOU WILL BE CITIZENS OF A GREAT EMPIRE. AS YOU GROW UP ALWAYS KEEP THIS THOUGHT BEFORE YOU, AND WHEN THE TIME COMES BE READY AND PROUD TO GIVE TO YOUR COUNTRY THE SERVICE OF YOUR WORK, YOUR MIND AND YOUR HEART. I HAVE BEEN GREATLY TOUCHED BY ALL OF THE GREETINGS WHICH HAVE COME TO ME TODAY FROM MY DOMINIONS AND COLONIES, FROM INDIA, AND FROM THIS HOME COUNTRY. MY HEART GOES OUT TO ALL WHO MAY BE LISTENING TO ME NOW, WHEREVER YOU MAY BE, EITHER HERE AT HOME, IN TOWN OR VILLAGE, OR IN SOME FAR-OFF CORNER OF THE EMPIRE, OR MAYBE ON THE HIGH SEAS. LET ME END THESE WORDS TO YOU WITH THOSE THAT QUEEN VICTORIA USED AFTER HER DIAMOND JUBILEE THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS AGO. NO WORDS COULD MORE TRULY OF 'SIMPLY EXPRESS MY OWN DEEP FEELINGS: "FROM MY HEART I THANK MY BELOVED PEOPLE; MAY GOD BLESS THEM."

GRIMSBY HONORS THE KING IN JUBILEE CELEBRATION

Large Gatherings in Moore's Theatre And Trinity Hall — Parade In Afternoon — Beacon Fire on Mountain — Jubilee Medals Presented To Miss Walsh, Mr. Forman And Col. Johnson — Rev. Mr. Merritt And Mr. Walter McPherson Deliver Appropriate Addresses — School Children Lead Singing At Hall.

Citizens of Grimsby and district gathered at Moore's Theatre and at Trinity Hall on Monday to fittingly commemorate the King's Silver Jubilee and to testify to their loyalty and devotion to His Majesty and Queen Mary who throughout the past 25 years have so faithfully and outstandingly served the people of the Empire.

At Moore's Theatre a service of Thanksgiving took place on Monday morning with the ministers of the town in charge, Rev. J. A. Ballard of St. Andrew's Anglican Church, acting as chairman.

In his introductory remarks Mr. Ballard said they were all proud to be citizens of the great British Empire. They were happy to share in the observance of the Jubilee and to pay a tribute of affection and esteem to the King and Queen and members of the royal family.

Following the singing of the hymn "O, God Our Help In Ages Past", Rev. J. H. Kaine, minister of the Presbyterian Church, read the scripture lesson after which prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Eichman of the United Church.

The second hymn, "Unto the Hills" then followed after which Miss Mary Reid read an appropriate poem by Lady Spring-Rice, the words of which were sung as part of the service that in St. Paul's Cathedral, London.

The address was given by Rev. Mr. Merritt of the Baptist Church who gave an interesting review of the life of King George. He spoke in part as follows:

"We have a King who is beloved of all the people of the Empire and peoples beyond the Empire. Is there another King or ruler who for 25 years has commanded the increasing respect and confidence of his people? Other royal houses have tottered and fallen. Our King and his family have grown in the favor of the people. He loves the people and has always manifested a sympathetic interest in them throughout his life. From early youth he made himself one of the people and fraternized with them and the people of all nations. He is a man of Christian character and Christian ideals and principles. Let us thank God that we have a King who honors the name of God."

Following the address the third hymn, "Psalms of Our Fathers", was sung by the gathering after which the message of fealty to the King from the County of Lincoln, which appears in another column, was read by Mr. Kaine. Reeve Lawrence, in referring to the message from the county said that a great deal of credit was due Reeve Mogg for the preparation of the document.

Presentations of Jubilee Medals were then made to recipients of Royal favor including her. The presentation to Miss Harriet Walsh, former head mistress of Bishop Strachan School, Toronto, was made by Mayor McPherson in recognition of her outstanding service to the cause of Education.

Miss Walsh, in acknowledging the honor, referred to the fact that she had been present at the coronation of King George and said she could clearly recall the Golden Jubilee of Queen Victoria. She felt that through the presentation a tribute was being paid to the school for which she stood.

The presentation of a Jubilee medal to Mr. John Forman was made by Reeve Mogg who referred to his having been a member of the teaching profession for over fifty years, much of which period he spent as principal of the Grimsby Public School. Reeve Mogg paid warm tribute to the service he had also rendered the cause of Education.

Mr. Forman made a suitable acknowledgment of the gift.

At the Jubilee Celebration at Niagara Falls on Monday at which fifteen Grimsby men from B Company in charge of Lieut. Palmer together with Col. W. W. Johnson, Capt. F. T. Shoebridge from headquarters and Capt. Warner were in attendance, Col. Johnson was presented with a Coronation medal by Col. Vandervat of Niagara Falls.

Rev. Mr. Ballard before the gathering dispersed, following the singing of the National Anthem, heartily thanked all those who had participated in the program.

The kindness of Mrs. Moore is placing the theatre at the disposal of the citizens for the gathering which was held under the auspices of the L.O.D. E., in conjunction with the ministers of the town, was much appreciated.

Owing to his having been called to Toronto to assist in the Jubilee ceremony there, Rev. Father Canning of Joseph's R. C. Church, was unable to be present.

Mr. W. E. Cullingford presided at the piano.

Meeting At Trinity Hall

On Monday afternoon hundreds of school children together with council members and officials of Grimsby and North Grimsby, the L. O. D. E. and the Grimsby Band gathered at the school grounds where a procession was formed and to the stirring strains of patriotic selections played by the band, the parade proceeded to Trinity Hall via Main Street and Depot Street where another meeting in commemoration of the King's Jubilee was held.

Major McPherson presided and after the singing of "O Canada" by the gathering led by the school choir under the direction of Mr. G. L. Eaton, made reference to the happenings which had occurred during the reign of King George. He alluded to the great progress evident in the field of invention and aviation and the introduction of the radio and said they were all happy to pay tribute and honor to the King on this auspicious occasion.

Another patriotic selection, "The Maple Leaf" was then sung by the school children after which Reeve Mogg of Grimsby took occasion to refer to the honor which had been conferred on Mr. John Forman in the presentation to him of a Jubilee Medal in which the school children present as well as many adults were especially interested since they had attended the public school under his principality. The school children in attendance heartily applauded the references to Mr. Forman.

The speaker of the day was Mr. Walter McPherson who was introduced to the gathering by Reeve Mogg.

Mr. McPherson who is widely known throughout the province for his patriotic sentiments, in an eloquent Jubilee address paid high tribute to the King and Queen and the Royal family who he said commanded the good will and confidence of the people of the Empire and other nations in an unusual degree, declaring His Majesty to be one of the best Kings of all time.

The family of the late Mrs. Mary E. Durham took this opportunity to thank the many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy, for the floral offerings and those who so kindly loaned care during their recent bereavement.

MAY MEETING TOWN COUNCIL

Court of Revision June 6th — To Beautify Cemetery — Erection Of Substantial Dwellings Advocated — Tax Arrears Penalty Now Same In All Municipalities.

Despite the fact the Grimsby council disposed of a large budget of money at the special meeting held on Thursday evening, there remained further matters to be dealt with which occupied the attention of the town fathers at their regular meeting on Wednesday evening until after eleven o'clock.

De Not Want Shack Tax

Further applications for building permits were received including one for $150 for removal of a chicken house, occasioned considerable discussion. Councillor Chivers again expressing his opposition to permitting the erection of shacks. "We will have a shack town in twenty years if we allow shacks to be erected," he declared. "We expect people to come to Grimsby and build respectable dwellings," added the councillor.

Mayor McPherson took an equally strong stand. "We, in town, should try and see that people erect good substantial buildings that will be a credit to the community," said the Mayor. "I do not want to be a party to it. We should strive against shacks.

Blossom Sunday To Be Observed On May 12

After several days of chilly weather during which there has been a heavy rainfall the sun made its appearance on Wednesday and prospects are now bright for warmer weather for the weekend in which event the blossoms will be in full bloom by Sunday which will, in all likelihood, be Blossom Sunday. The blossoms have been ready to burst into bloom, a couple of days of warm sunshine being the only thing needed.

Traffic over the highway during the past week-end was heavy and it is anticipated that the coming week-end will see an increased number visiting the Niagara Peninsula to see the blossoms which are in an advancing state and worth coming many miles to see.

Visitors To Grimsby On Blossom Sunday Are Heartily Welcome

The approach of Blossom Sunday which is to be observed on May 12th, prompted the passing of the following resolution at the May meeting of the Grimsby town council.

Moved by Reeve Mogg, seconded by Councillor Lothian and heartily endorsed by the council.

That the Mayor issue a proclamation calling upon all citizens on Blossom Sunday, May 12th, to show extra courtesy to blossom visitors and to consider themselves a committee to direct visitors to where the best showing of blossoms may be seen and that an invitation is extended to all motorists and blossom visitors to make Grimsby their headquarters.

Card Of Thanks

The family of the late Mrs. Mary E. Durham takes this opportunity to thank the many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy, for the floral offerings and those who so kindly loaned care during their recent bereavement.

Blossom Time Music Festival This Week

The Blossom Time Music Festival appropriately held each year at this time, will be held on Tuesday and Friday evenings of this week. It will afford an opportunity of hearing a Festival Chorus of 150 voices as well as other choruses which will make up an attractive program to be presented under the leadership of Gordon L. Eaton, director of music in the schools of Grimsby and district. Indications point to Trinity Hall being filled to capacity on both evenings.

The above is the wording inscribed on a beautiful parchment scroll, bound in morocco leather, and bearing the best wishes of the Lincoln County Council, which left St. Catharines last week for England where it would be duly presented to King George.

The scroll is the product of the handicraft of J. G. Williams of the St. Catharines city hall staff and is a magnificent piece of work. A border about the parchment bears drawings of fruits and maple leaves. The scroll was executed in black and white and with its morocco cover and silk lining and tie is an artistic accomplishment of real beauty. The whole is enshrined in a leather covered case to ensure its safe arrival to the King.

SOFTBALL SEASON SOON TO OPEN

Various Teams Have Again Entered — Prospects For Very Successful League.

The softball season will open in about two weeks time and will be bigger and better than ever.

A meeting of the District Executive was held on Friday night last and Dr. Prior of Smithville will again be President and Mr. Thompson of Beamsville will be Secretary, two good men and true.

His worship, Mayor Benjamin Headship, has entered St. Ann's in the big circuit and they should be a good asset to the league as they were very helpful last year.

Stoney Creek will also be with us. When it is considered that a team from this league went through to a championship last year, it means that all teams have got to be good. Beamsville, Grimsby Beach and Smithville are in again. Waino has until Friday to give their decision as to entry.

It is hoped they can make the grade. This club was a bit upsetting last year but this is another year. You can imagine in a big way that the summer will be a big one for ball-games.

The local team is working out every night and the same call is put out as in every year. If any boy or man would like a try out, manager McBride will be very glad to give them the chance as he is looking for new.

Now after this call has been sent out material in order to strengthen team, do not criticize those who are on the team and think there are better players standing on the side lines.

GRIMSBY AND N. GRIMSBY TO BUY FIRE TRUCK AND PUMPER

Grimsby Council Also Authorizes Purchase — Price $2,785 — Half To Be Paid By Each Municipality — Fire Inspection On Buildings In Fire Limit "A" — Buildings Must Be ERECTED So As Not To Create Fire Hazard — No Relief Now Being Given In The Town of Grimsby.

At a special meeting of the Grimsby Town Council, held on Thursday evening last that body authorized the purchase of a new fire truck with pumper equipment at a cost of $2,785, half of the outlay to be borne by the Township of North Grimsby. The equipment is to include a Bickle Rotary pump and is to be secured from the Bickle Fire Engines Limited, Woodstock. The truck will be a two-ton and have a Chevrolet chassis.

A bylaw authorizing the purchase was given three readings and passed, the council therupon passing the following resolutions in connection with requests for building permits:

Bourne-Chilvers — That following permits be approved: Mrs. Pauline Skycy, 48 Depot St.; W. J. West, 23 Main West; Norman Godden, 26 Elizabeth St., subject to supervision Building Inspector and under town bylaws and that Mr. McNichol be notified not to start building operations until such time as the plans have been submitted to the town council for their approval.

Mogg-Chilvers — That the building inspector is hereby instructed

Longer Shirts Style Decree For Spring

Paris—"Longer shirts" is the decree of the latest fashion showing and, as the hemline came down, the fashion designers also began to get down to the serious business of establishing their styles for spring styles.

In the midst of displays stressing slightly longer hemlines for 1925, Mme. struck a new note by exhibiting shirts which were only seven or eight inches from the ground. They are designed with a soft gored fullness breaking away from the old tight line with the rest of the silhouette molding the bust and waist.

"Wear capes" was the next edict illustrated by a collection which displayed them in every length from waist to knee. Outstanding among them were models made of two to four silver fox pelts, framing the wearer's face and sweeping around the arms. There were also high-length evening capes of silver fox and ermine and three-quarter length wool capes topping wool frocks.

Full-length fitted coats in navy, black and grey wool, were often collarless and with cape-sleeves bordered and navy and silver foxes. They showed no fur next to the face.

Know What She Wanted

Mrs. McGroarty, who lives over the back road, rushed into the milliner's at Blue Springs greatly excited.

"My new hat has been trimmed on the wrong side," she said, "and it has to be altered."

"The trimming is on the left side where it should be this way," replied the milliner.

"It makes no difference where it ought to be," continued Mrs. McGroarty, "I must have it on the church side."

"Church side?" asked the milliner.

"Yes, church side. I sit next to the left wall, and I'm not going to pay for a lot of trimmings that can't be seen. I want it on the other side where all my friends can see it."

A young man who wished to get married wrote to his father asking his advice. He received the following advice:

"My Dear Son:—Your mother and I would like to see you happily married. She tells me to point out the many advantages—cozy fireside, chair, slippers, pipe, and so on, with your darling wife sitting beside you. I am proud to know, my boy, that you have decided to settle down at last."

"P. S.—Your mother has just left the room. Keep single, you darned idiot—Father."

All have a share in the beauty, All have a part in the plan; What does it matter what duty falls to the lot of man? Some one has blended the planter, Some one has carried the stone; Neither the man nor the master, Ever has built alone. Building a house for the King; Making a roof from the weather. Men have accomplished a thing, Only by working together.

Canada's Gift To The King

Perhaps the most precious single shipment that ever left Canada for Britain was placed in the strong room of the Canadian White Star liner Aquitania at New York.

This is none other than Canada's gift box to King George V. It is a gold box measuring 18 x 14 x 3 inches, elaborately decorated with hand-engraved crests of the nine Canadian provinces and the Dominion coat-of-arms, with maple leaf and crown borders.

The box was designed and made by Henry Birks & Sons, and its inscription read: "To His Most Excellent Majesty King George V, humble address of the Senate and the House of Commons of Canada on the occasion of His Majesty's Silver Jubilee, 1935."

The box was presented to His Majesty on May 8.

It was delivered to the Aquitania by an official of the Department of External Affairs, Ottawa, accompanied by a detective.

Country lanes, the local authorities have charge of all our roads. The Minister of Transport gives grants to the local authorities out of the road fund, but every time he wants to introduce some new principle into the road system he has to coax the local authorities into agreement.

The Pictou County Highways.

"Look at our traffic situation. More than 2,000,000 cars on the roads already, and 300 new ones going on the roads every day. Cars are getting so cheap that in five years' time everybody will have one. The motor industry is the most prosperous industry we have—but our roads are costing us 150 dead and 5,000 injured every week. Our roads are picturesques, but they were never built for motor traffic. In the United States the roads were made by Hitler. They are all geometric straight lines. The only thing to do is to begin all over again, and that's why I've got a five-year plan."

Mr. Horatio Belisha's five-year plan proved to be a replanning of the traffic needs of Greater London. Already he has made Britain safer.

"After less than a year at the Horatio Belisha engine, motorists, cyclists and pedestrians are thinking and talking safety together. But in this country we have about 1,000 local highway authorities, and a Minister of Transport can go just about as far and about as fast as he can get the local authorities to go with him."

"They do things differently in other countries," said Mr. Horatio Belisha. "In France, for example, the government administers the national roads and the local authorities have only the local roads to maintain. Here every road in the country enjoys the full blessings of local government. It doesn't make any difference whether you are flying along a main road from London to Liverpool or ambling through a metropolis, for example, have written to say that it has given their words the first quiet nights they have ever known. We began it last July in the London area only, and it went so well that in September we extended it to all built-up areas throughout the country. Built-up areas in this country are areas with street-lighting systems and they include about a third of our total road mileage. You figure that we have about 17,000 miles of public roads in this country, you can reckon that on a little less than 60,000 miles of roads we are now prohibited from sounding your horn between 11:30 at night and 7 in the morning.

Good Manners on the Road.

"The kind of driver we try to get at in this silence order is not the man who makes a noise out of his horn to tell somebody ahead of him that he is coming, but the man who blares 'Get out of my way' at everything in front of him.

"That kind of driver is a pest by day just as he used to be at night. Good manners are one of the things I want to encourage on the roads—just plain good manners—for good manners and careful driving together. But in this country we have about 1,000 local highway authorities, and a Minister of Transport can go just about as far and about as fast as he can get the local authorities to go with him."

"They do things differently in other countries," said Mr. Horatio Belisha. "In France, for example, the government administers the national roads and the local authorities have only the local roads to maintain. Here every road in the country enjoys the full blessings of local government. It doesn't make any difference whether you are flying along a main road from London to Liverpool or ambling through a

"What did you say your work was?" he asked.
"I'm an advertising man," he replied.

"Well, young man, we can do business. I've been trying to sell this farm for a long time. If you'll write me a few lines at, I'll give you breakfast."

The young man prepared the copy and handed it to the farmer, who read:

HARVESTING FOR QUICK SALE—beautiful modern country home on State Road; 120 acres of fertile farmland; Master farmer's gift to mankind; rolling green pastures; virgin woods, many ancient trees defy the ages. Spring-fed brooks wind their way meadowly through fields of rye, black soil, providing adequate cool water for all livestock. Truly a garden spot of the world.

The farmer halted for breath and cried:

"Where is this farm?"
"Right here," replied the young man.

"The heck it is," said the farmer.
"Guess I'll keep it myself."

Store Will Try Five-Day Week

Kitchener.—The five-day week scheme will be given a trial for three months by A. R. Goodie, proprietor of Kitchener's largest departmental store. During June, July and August his store will remain closed all day Monday, but will stay open Wednesday afternoon, the traditional half-holiday here. The innovation is admittedly an experiment and was favorably voted upon by the employees.

That Nice Shore Movie

(Annapolis Royal Spectator)

That Carragane Man (often known as Irish Man) has become the subject of recognized medical attention and value will not be surprising to the shore dwellers of Maine and western Nova Scotia who have long picked it and bleached it and dried it and used it for a health-jelly. It grows on the rocks at the edge of low water and is a delicate greenish white color, somewhat like coral in appearance, but perfectly soft, and when dried and bleached becomes quite white, in which state it will keep indefinitely, making a lovely jelly that can be flavored and used as a food by the most delicate

"Also, we shall make certain that they know the highway code. It is a reasonable assumption that every driver has a copy of the code because it is issued to him with his driving license, but hereafter we shall be sure that he has read it, incidentally, we shall have a new code before long.

Changes in Speed Limit.

"Another innovation has been a change in the speed limit. Heretofore we have had a limit of thirty miles an hour on heavy cars, but no limit on light cars. The police could prosecute the driver of a light car for dangerous carelessness or negligent driving, but not for exceeding a speed limit. We have now imposed a limit of thirty miles an hour on all cars in built-up areas.

At the same time we are doing away with the speed limit on the new by-pass roads. I believe that all these changes are in the right direction. If we can give the rest of the roads every possible safety device, if we can compel vehicles to conform to safety standards.

If we can get a high standard of future road construction adopted I believe that our road traffic will eventually begin to bow with some of the safety which rail traffic has achieved."

Quick Turnover

Well-dressed, suffering from three days' illness, a young man knocked at a farmhouse near Akron. Time: 7 a.m.

"Good morning," to the farmer, "I am an advertising man out of work. I'm starved. Wonder if you'd please give me some breakfast? I'll be glad to do what I can to repay you."

Slow up at the railroad track—

It only takes a minute—
And then your car will start again, And better yet, you're in it!

STYLE CHANGE

The girl who used to spend a lot of time in front of the glass making sure her hat was on straight now spends the same amount of time making sure it isn't. — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

MENTALLY ILL

There is decided merit in the proposal of the Hon. Dr. J. A. Psichiatrist, the provincial Minister of Health, that the word "insane" shall be deleted from Ontario's statutes whenever it may occur and be replaced by the phrase "mentally ill and defective." We have made much progress from that dim period in which individuals suffering from mental illness were considered to be in such a hopeless state that they were confined in virtual prisons and set apart from the world for the remainder of their days.—Bracebridge Recorder.

ISLAND STEPPING STONES

Soon every little island in the ocean is going to find itself important and it is certain that, with aviation developing as it is, places which in the past have not even been spots on the map will become centers of interest. Here, for instance, is the case of the Wake Islands, away out in the Pacific Ocean. There are three small islands, with a total area of not more than 3,000 acres, yet they are to be a point of call on the proposed U.S.-China air route, plans for which are now well under way with Pan-American Airways and the United States Government co-operating.—Seattle Star.

BRITAIN'S PROGRESS

The soundness of the basis on which Britain's recovery has been built is shown more clearly than ever in Neville Chamberlain's budget for the coming year. The average Briton's standard of living has steadily improved.

The cost of living last year was substantially below the level of 1931, when the National Government came into power. Industrial production rose 12 per cent. last year; exports increased $142,000,000.—Winnipeg Tribune.

THE STAGGERING TOTAL

Any attempt to establish the absolute total of direct and indirect victims of the war in the whole world, Professor Hersch of the University of Geneva sums up, "is doomed to failure." In the first place we lack reliable data for the backward countries. But he adds, "even with these maps we arrive at the following approximate estimates" of deaths, directly and indirectly attributable to the world war:

Military	12,837,000
Europe	12,837,000
America	170,000
Asia	83,000
Africa	50,000
Oceania	70,000

13,662,000 12,837,000

Which gives the staggering total of "early 42 million people destroyed"—a number actually greater than the population of France, England and Wales, and four times as great as the total population of the Dominion of Canada.—Halifax Herald.

A SPECULATION

The population of the United States in 1939 was 5,300,000, less than half the population of Canada today. Even in 1930 it did not exceed 9,000,000, or 1,500,000 less than the number of people who live in this Dominion now. The rate of increase, however, was consistently greater than that of Canada, owing to the heavy immigration which continued until drastic restrictive regulations were imposed fifteen or twenty years ago. When economic conditions have improved it may be predicted that Canada's population will increase at a greater rate than at any other time in her history and may reach 20,000,000 within the next two decades. — Victoria Times.

ORGANIZED CHILDHOOD

The school child of twenty years ago knew little or nothing of airplanes or radio or automobiles, but today these are a part of his life. Child life is also organized today as never before with Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, camp clubs, choirs and athletic teams. The process of relating education to it is itself a problem of importance.—London Free Press.

PARADOX ON THE FARM

Although the Washington government has taken unprecedented steps in the last two years to reduce farm production, an odd turn of event has resulted in a substantial increase in the number of farmers. Census bureau officials estimate that at least half a million new farms have sprung up in the United States during the depression. For the most part, it is believed that this is due to the return to rural areas of city folk whose jobs vanished when factories shut down. Over a period of many years the American farm population steadily declined. It is surprising enough to find this trend reversed, over a five-year stretch; but to try to understand just how this reversal has come about requires a look at the formation of the national associations.

New Body Controls 24,000

Toronto.—The newly-formed Canadian Curling Association is estimated to have jurisdiction over 24,000 curlers throughout the country and 612 clubs. Fifteen governing bodies, most of them provincial organizations, took part in the formation of the national association.

These two members of Toronto's Chinese Boy Scout Troop were among the 2,000 Scouts taking part in their annual aid clothing collection in that city, when 100,000 articles of clothing and thousands of pairs of shoes were gathered for distribution to the needy.

Building Trade Has Reason To Be Optimistic

The building trade in Toronto and vicinity has reason to feel encouraged over existing conditions. With the stimulus furnished by the Federal Government in the construction of the Armouries on Fleet Street, and the large addition to the Federal Building on Front Street, the report of the issue of permits issued by Building Commissioner K. S. Gillies is reassuring. For the month of March, according to Building in Canada, the permits granted exceeded in value those for the entire first three months of 1934. They totalled last month $1,021,677, as compared with $922,065 for the corresponding month last year. During the first three months of this year the permits reached an aggregate value of $2,202,415, as compared with $793,755 for the first quarter of 1934.

Activity is apparent in Leaside, with twenty-five new houses under construction. Forest Hill has evidently another active building year in prospect. Permits to the value of $214,775 were issued by Commissioner MacNeil during the first three months of the current year, as compared with $191,150 for the similar period. In Etobicoke, permits issued between January 1st and March 31st this year totalled $119,822, as compared with $112,150 in 1934. In York Township a gain of nearly 500 per cent. in building permit values is reported for March. Real estate activity is indicated in these Toronto suburban areas, and the outlook is brightening.

Intense interest centres in the recommendations made to Parliament by the Canada Housing Committee. The plan put forward is that the public treasury lend $50,000,000 to be matched by $200,000,000 from private sources to finance a national house-building scheme. The expenditure of $250,000,000 on such a project would go far to galvanize the building trade into new life and to stimulate many industries engaged in the production of building supplies. Nothing would do more to increase employment.—Toronto Mail & Empire.

MATERNITY CHEMISTRY

Products Used to Stimulate the Motherly Instinct

The motherly instinct is something that can be soon purchased in the corner drug store. Two properly compounded pills a day, or an occasional injection, will make the hardest-hearted woman yearn for children and gather those of the next-door neighbor unto her. The chemical that performs this miracle is prolactin, about which Dr. Oscar Riddle of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, has been telling us much of recent years in various scientific publications.

Prolactin is a hormone—an extract of the anterior lobe of the pituitary body which lies at the base of the brain. Dr. Riddle injected it into very young female doves with astonishing results. They nested, brooded and conducted themselves like actual mothers—indeed, were ready to become mothers. Administered to mammals, to horses, started the breasts growing and caused them to produce milk. Already prolactin is a boon to physicians who specialize in the care of babies and mothers.

At the meeting of the American Physiological Society, Dr. Riddle summarized the results of more recent laboratory studies made by himself and his collaborators, Drs. Ernest L. Lake and Robert W. Bates. Rats prove to be just as satisfactory animals for experimentation as doves. Their one interest in life, after a few doses of prolactin, is their young. The effect is almost in twenty-four to forty-eight hours after the first injection.

EFFECTS OF PROLACTIN
From the anterior lobe of the pituitary body a follicle-stimulating hormone can be extracted as well as prolactin. The two have opposite effects. Heat prolactin to destroy the growth hormone, inject it into a male dove, and the result is nearly the same as castration. The mating instinct is gone. On the other hand, the pituitary follicle-stimulating hormone makes a Leda-like of any male dove. He is all for love-making. More nerves has the same effect on him but fails to arouse the maternal instinct in females.

Going still further, Drs. Riddle, Bates and Lake experimented with the anterior pituitaries of embryo calves, new-born calves, adult bulls and steers, and cows in different stages of pregnancy. Again doves received the injections—this time a combination of prolactin, the follicle-stimulating and a third hormone which somehow stirs up the thyroid gland, even though it is situated in the neck and therefore far from the pituitary.

Germany has the highest marriage rate—over ten per thousand of the population—in Europe. The next is Poland with 8.2, Holland and Italy with 7.2, England with 7, and France with 6.9.

Sketch Club

the Previous Lessons

Lesson No. 21. we studied Tone in Technique. A very Tone in subject and one I derived important benefit from myself, a great deal of this feature again, is going to come into my mind, so the better it will be for our students to review the work taken up in Lesson No. 20.

You will remember in Lesson No. 1, we made a start to write, could also who could sketch. No doubt you all learn to do with me that the statement, "no" as much as it may be that time, has appeared to be. Many of the sketches submitted to me, since we started this Sketch Club indicate that the time has been well and profitably spent.

As in Lesson No. 1, we practised on strokes or lines as used in writing, so, we too, continued doing the same in Lesson No. 2, by carrying on with these lines and developing them into simple borders. Then we studied the sketching of an apple in the four stages of outline, to a finished drawing in full shaded effect, demonstrating the three dimensions of height, breadth and depth or thickness. The lines and borders were drawn with pen and ink, and the apple with lead pencil or a crayon pencil.

Then continuing the study of crayon technique we practised drawing tones in lines, shading a sphere and cylinder. We also gave you some problems to draw with each lesson and answered any questions which our students required assistance with, as they were confronted with various problems.

With the work of Lesson No. 4, we assembled crayon lines into a pictorial effect representing portions of a brick wall, a stone coping, and some foliage. As one problem for this lesson you were asked to assemble the wall, coping and foliage to form a composition in pictorial effect, which we illustrated in Lesson No. 6, to show the finished result.

In Lesson No. 6, we studied the use of spread lines for pictorial effects. You were asked to make a pen line drawing from a half-tone reproduction of a dish of apples.

The method of enlarging and reducing the size of a sketch was explained in Lesson No. 6, by using a rectangle and a diagonal line. We also studied the correct procedure of how to enlarge the apple drawing from the previous lesson.

Lesson No. 7, brought out the problem of drawing three cubes resting one above the other and three different colors or tones of cubes. Then we also studied the light and shade effect of these cubes and a cast shadow upon a cylinder. The problem of a hollow hexagon was also explained and illustrated.

We took up our first study on Landscape Drawing with Lesson No. 8. We here studied the use of a Range Finder to select compositions. Then we announced a Landscape Sketching Contest and offered three illustrations by prominent Canadian artists for prizes.

Lesson No. 9, we continued the use of a Range Finder, and also how to change a bit of scenery around in order to make a new composition. Lesson No. 10, illustrates new uses of pen and ink, and also brush techniques, together with the use of white paint combined with pen lines.

The method of using a decorative technique of landscape for advertising purposes was demonstrated in Lesson No. 11. We also studied pen strokes and scatter work by the brush.

Lesson No. 12, brought out the filing away of sample pictures for future reference. Lesson No. 13, was given over to answering special questions and problems submitted by our students, this proved to be very interesting and helpful to both the Art Director as well as the students. Lesson No. 14, was a continuation of study on tree trunks.

Trees in different atmospheric conditions were dealt with in Lesson No. 17, such as seen in rain or snow effects. Strong sunlight effects on trees was studied in Lesson No. 18, together with the effective use of the crayon pencil for sketching certain kinds of trees.

Pin needles, collection of tall grasses upon water, stone and grass in strong sunlight was studied in Lesson No. 19. Lessons 20 and 21 taught the value of carrying around a sketch book with you when out walking, so that important and valuable little bits of useful material may be recorded and then filed for future reference.

Lesson No. 22, changes the scene and birds and birds.

The winners of our Sketching Contest were announced and prizes sent out to the three lucky winners.

Contests in ocean going boats and ships illustrated in Lesson No. 23, a modern and early shipping events. A test drawing was asked for in illustrating with pen lines a picture scene of water, horizon and sky, showing clouds and reflections.

Lesson No. 24, changes the scene to yachts. Then more contrast in boats as used on Lake Ontario as shown by the use of paddle steamers and modern turbine engine ships in Lesson No. 25.

We went back again to yachts in Lesson No. 26. Small dinghies, both pleasure and racing yachts and also steam ships were illustrated, also a decorative bit of design suitable for marine subjects.

Lesson No. 27 takes us into a study of battleships, and specimens of "The British Navy" were illustrated here. Lesson No. 28 continued this study on "The Navy" and its "Jolly Tarn." Notes on Wooden Ships were discussed here too.

Notes on Viking Ships were printed in Lesson No. 29. Also a splendid example of a combination of pen lines with the use of the crayon pencil in illustrating a modern liner against the sea and sky.

In Lessons No. 29 and No. 30 we commenced a series of features in outline drawing such as the Captain, an Anchor, a Ship's Cutter.

Lesson No. 33 was given over to answering questions and various problems sent by our students.

A study of Design was commenced in Lesson No. 30. The use of a "Deck" or "Time Sheet" was mentioned in Lesson No. 30. Also a filing system for picture clippings for reference. Lesson No. 36 and 37 brought up the subject of tools or instruments. Also practical problems were set out for the students to create in design work. Lesson No. 38. Suggestions for Design were given and then The Principles of Design in Lesson No. 39. Lesson No. 40, taught Rhythm, Balance, Harmony and the same subjects were continued in Lesson No. 41.

We then had a chat on Design for Surface Patterns in Lesson No. 42. Rhythm and Surface Patterns were discussed in Lesson No. 43. Flowing Rhythm in Lesson No. 44. Flowing Rhythm and Repetition in Lesson No. 45. Flowing Rhythm in Natural Leaf Forms in Lesson No. 46. Rhythmic arrangements in Lesson No. 47. Rhythmic Arrangements of Simple Pattern over a surface in Lesson No. 48. Flowing Rhythmic Pattern in Lesson No. 49. Simple Rhythm, Flowing Rhythm, Tone Rhythm in Lesson No. 50.

Then in Lesson No. 51 we took up the study of Tone in Line Technique, this being a very important study as will be seen in the near future. Master this important feature of Tone and all will be well.

Questions will be answered, etc.

Questions will be answered in this department. Anyone wishing to receive a personal reply may have same if a 2c stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed with the request. The Art Director, Our Sketch Club, 73 Adelaide Street, West, Toronto.

COULD NOT SEW A BUTTON ON

Her Hands Were Helpless With Rheumatism

At one time she thought she would lose the use of her right hand. But "a blessing"—in the form of Kruschen Salt—got her right again.

"I was sure in a bad state," she writes. "In fact, I could not do my housework. I was so bad with rheumatism in my arms and hands, I could not sleep at night, and I thought I would lose the use of my right hand. I could not hold anything, nor could I sew a button on. My arm would go dead. I was advised to try Kruschen, and inside of three weeks I found such a change. I have kept on taking it, and now I sleep all night—thanks to Kruschen's help and relief."—(Mrs.) J. H.

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salt have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals, which are responsible for rheumatism. Other ingredients of these salts assist Nature to expel these dissolved crystals through the natural channels.

attractions in the United States, which was an important market for the promotion of Canada's tourist trade, will approximate about $120,000,000, the official said.

Mr. Dennis asked whether the question of the use of the radio in conjunction with the Canadian newspapers and magazines in developing tourist trade between the different Canadian provinces had been considered.

A suggestion was under consideration by which the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission might allocate a few minutes two or three times a week at the end of the day's program to giving facts on the tourist attractions in the East and West, he replied.

The total amount spent on advertising up to the end of this month estimated at $16,026 by Mr. Dolan.

One Canadian campaign cost $12,000 and the first advertising campaign in the United States last August cost $17,525, he said. The second United States campaign had cost about $45,000.

TOTAL OUTLAY IS $92,000. The total expenditure by the Department amounted to $92,000 up to the present, he said. The figure was due to the present fiscal year with a balance of $6,000 of its appropriation.

In the August campaign in the United States 40 newspapers in 22 cities covering 17 states were used, he said.

Many inquiries had been received from the United States as a consequence of the August campaign, and information was circulated which helped the Bureau to launch its campaign this spring, he added.

The information indicated that the best source of tourist traffic from the United States were: New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, California, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan and Indiana.

We May Reach Age Of 140

Los Angeles.—It's only a matter of time before human beings may live to an age of 140, says Dr. George Voronoff, noted European scientist.

He arrived here recently after extensive experiments with orang-utans, chimpanzees and gibbons in India, Indo-China and Java, all for the advancement of the monkey gland rejuvenation theory which has made him famous.

Dr. Voronoff was accompanied by his bride of a year, the former Hilda Schatz whom he married in Rochester last year when he was 70 and she was 21.

Many problems have yet to be solved before a 140-year life span becomes ordinary, but the process requires only that worn-out glands be replaced with young and active glands which would impart new impulses to all the cells of the body, the scientist declared.

That's Curious!

The world's biggest clock, with a dial surface about six times the size of "Big Ben," is being built in Montreal. The clock will have three faces, the diameter of each face being 60 ft., mechanism weighing about six tons, minute marks over 30 ft. apart, and minute hands 30 ft. long and weighing 2,500 lbs. In the course of a year the minute hand will travel 312 miles round the face of the clock.

In spite of improvements in transport that have taken place in the last few years, the fastest train from London to Edinburgh is one hour and ten minutes slower in 1935 than it was in 1895.

She explained how Piers Hannan, though he had asked Miss la Fontaine if he might take Jean for a drive, had dispensed with asking her.

"My dear, you should have been flattered," said Miss la Fontaine at the end of the recital.

"Well, I wasn't. He makes me so nervous because I'm not sure of what he is thinking. I don't like him—I think he's hideous; he's finely built, perhaps—but beastly. Georgie, I can't stand him, and that's the end of it!"

"And so you hit him with your fan to make him let go of your hand, which he took to stop you from going away after you had insulted him!"

"My dear Georgie, the only way to make a man like that understand what you think of him is to hit him! He's like a super-intelligent bull or something!"

"Oh, so you do think he's intelligent?"

"You'll suppose that he's even clever in a way," Jean had to admit. "Anyhow, Georgie," she added, jumping up to pour more coffee into the cream-and-gold cups, "it won't have, I think, when I slapped him with the fan. I don't think he'll bother about me any more. I'm sorry, of course, because he's a friend of yours, but I don't suppose he'll hold it against you!"

"Well!" said Miss la Fontaine in despair. "There go the rest of my

Toronto Scientists Find One Secret of Childbirth

Change In Hormone In Blood Brings On Labor, Detroit Party Is Told

Detroit.—The mechanism which causes labor in childbirth has been discovered by three scientists at the University of Toronto. It was disclosed recently at the meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Dr. G. P. Marrian, Dr. A. L. Cohen and Dr. M. Watson have found that "labor" results from changes in the chemical condition of a hormone in the blood of the pregnant woman. This hormone, known as estrin, is manufactured by the ovaries.

ESTRIN FREED BY COMPOUND

During pregnancy, this hormone is present in the form of a complex chemical compound, Dr. Marrian said. Estrin is freed from the chemical compound.

J.W. Marrian concluded that labor is caused by freeing of the Estrin and its utilization by the body of the mother.

METHOD DEVELOPED

The two Cleveland experimenters have developed a method by which the sample to be tested is injected into the thyroid of a guinea pig.

Measurements are then made of the decrease of this iodine content of the guinea pig's thyroid gland.

Dr. W. J. Glass of Georgetown University reported changes in the chemical nature of the fingerlings of persons suffering from arthritis.

Normal fingerlings contain certain amine of arginine, histidine and tyrosine. The percentages of these substances present undergo a distinct alteration in arthritis, he found.

Indicating that this may prove a clue in the investigation of the primary cause of arthritis.

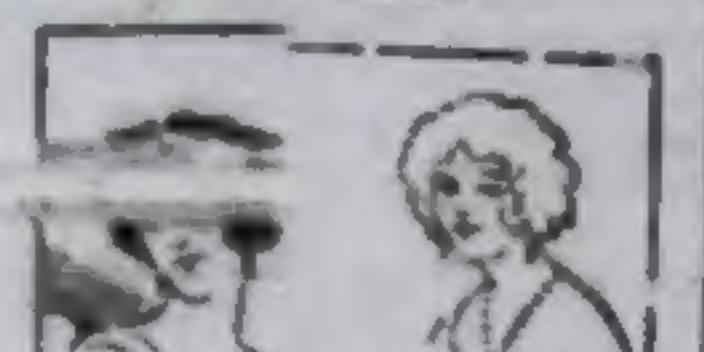

Dr. D. Roy McCollum, Dr. G. P. Marrian, Dr. A. L. Cohen and Dr. M. Watson have found that "labor" results from changes in the chemical condition of a hormone in the blood of the pregnant woman. This hormone, known as estrin, is manufactured by the ovaries.

Fashion Fads

Notes From A Paris Correspondent On The Newest Fancies

There was no limit to the novel ideas to be gleaned at the Paris fashion shows. Here, for instance, are some by Schiaparelli:

Yellow paisley handkerchief knotted round the neck of a white linen blouse.

Terra cotta canvas dress with short sleeves and a kangaroo pocket in the centre front.

Navy blue linen coat cut on sweater lines and closed by means of three leather clips in front.

Navy costume jacket closed from hip to throat by means of scarlet buttons and alternate red and green buttons.

In the front of a white linen sports blouse the initials and the year 1926 embroidered in red and surmounted by a little pierced heart in the same fine red embroidery.

And here are some of Palou's ideas:

The use of bugle trimmings not for evening gowns.

Glossed brown holland used as revers on a navy blue suit.

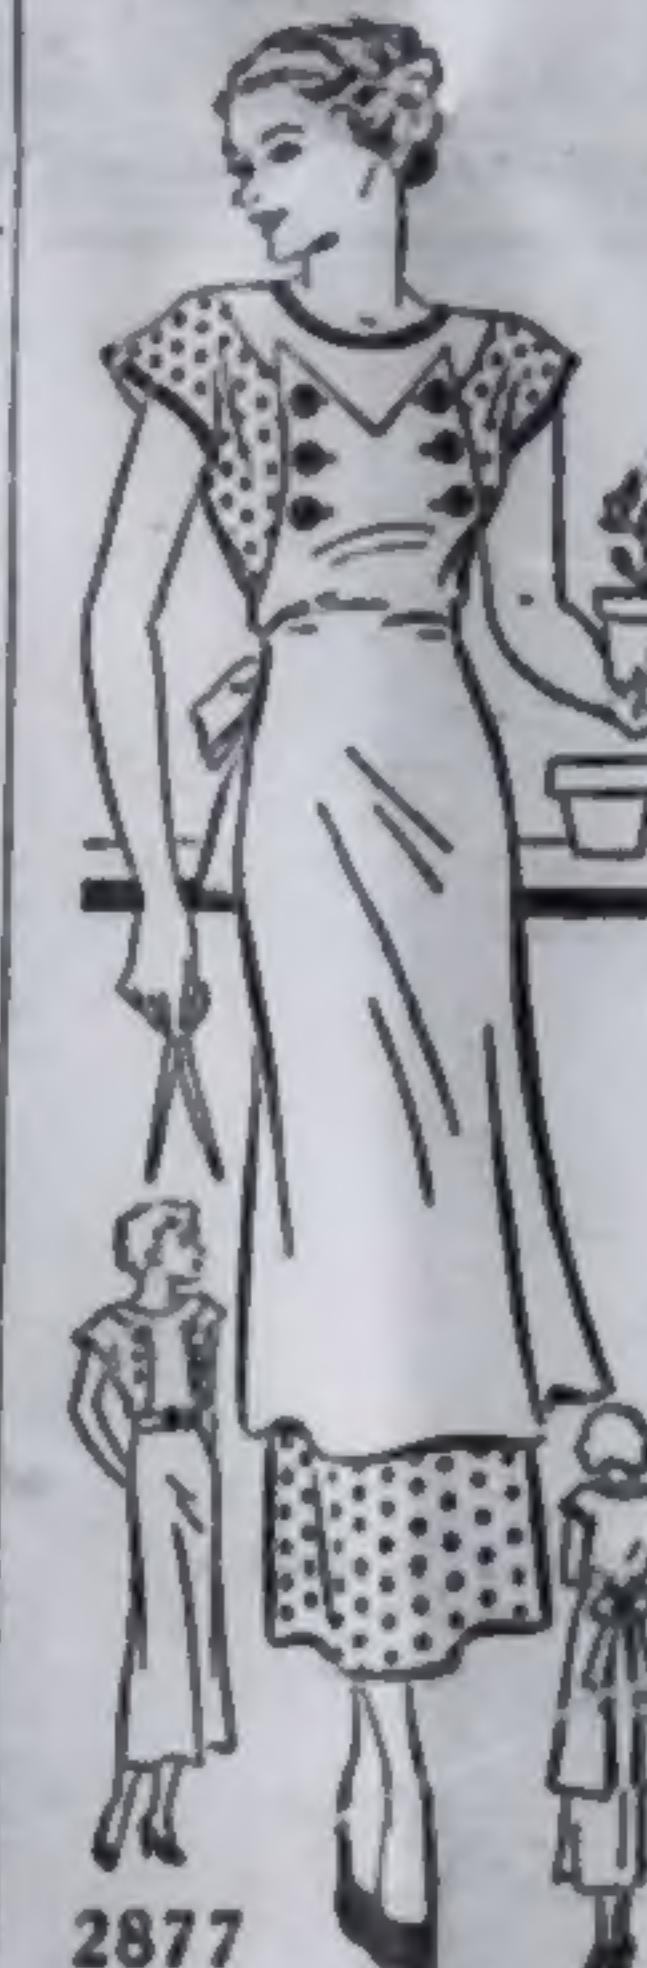

Sailor hat in transparent open glass trimmed with black ribbed ribbon.

A mustard woolen sports coat cut on sweater lines and with full three-quarter sleeves brought in tight below the elbow, worn over a plain white crepe sports dress.

English sleeves shirred from neck to elbow as the chief point of interest in a plain restaurant dress in black marocaine. The skirt is long and the bodice cut in a low V in the back. With this dress is worn a little lace made entirely of same-colored ostrich feathers.

The Robin's Song In Early Spring

When all the unstable tides of hidden thought beneath the eager consciousness of mind

Revolts to sudden flood, unrest has sought

A word serene that calm and peace may find.

It comes at eve, when deepening shadows brood,—

Bell-like, as from some hollow glass, where falls

Distilled pure loveliness and solitude;

A note of mystery—new life that calls.

The calm of love is in it, and content.

With vision of sure gladness, beauty known

To countless generations; fulness

Before fulfillment, perfectly its own.

This is the Robin's song when ing-

ard snow still holds the prison blossom

In the sod;

Rich beauty which a bird can keep and know,—

A vocal certainty of trust in God.

The Boy And His Knife

The big business man had forgotten his penknife, and apparently the members of his staff had done likewise. Everyone he asked shook their heads. Finally, he sent for Thomas, his diminutive office boy.

"Have you got a penknife?" he asked, sharply.

The boy delved into his trousers pocket and produced the necessary article.

The busman's man gladly accepted it.

"How is H. Thomas?" he said, "that you're the only member of the staff who carries a knife with him?"

"I suppose," replied the boy, with a frank smile, "it is because I can't afford more than one pair of trousers."

ANECDOTES

In the days long before the world war, John Buchan—then Governor-General of Canada—was one of the editors of the "Spectator," and Charles A. St. John Adcock (in "Uda of Modern Crab Street"), if you will look up "The Brain of the Nation," by Charles Le Graves, who was then assistant editor of that famous weekly, you will find among the witty and humorous poems in that volume a complete biography of Buchan in neat and lively verse, telling how he came up to London from Oxford, went to South Africa as Lord Milner's private secretary, returned to England and became a familiar figure in the "Spectator's" old offices in Wellington Street, London—just off the Strand, you know.

Every Tuesday morn caravanning
Up the stairs with flying feet,
You'd burst in upon us, cheering
Wellington's funeral street . . .

Pundit, publicist and jurist;
Statistician and divine;
Mystic, mountaineer and poet;
In the high financial line;
Prince of journalistic sprints;
Swiftest that I ever knew—
Never did you keep the printers
Longer than an hour or two,

Then, too, when the final stage
Of our weekly task drew nigh,
You would come and pass the pages
With a magisterial eye,
Seldom passing, save to smoke a
Cigarette at half past one.
When you quaffed a cup of Mocha
And devoured a penny bun."

Theodore Thomas, first conductor of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, at the age of 60, discovered he was becoming bald. The drafts encountered on the great stage of the Chicago Auditorium helped him to that discovery—which most men make sooner or later. So he got himself a toupee, after trying out a jockey cap which was all right for rehearsals, but a little disorderly for public appearances.

The first time Thomas was to appear at a rehearsal wearing his toupee, says Charles Edward Russell in "The American Orchestra and Theodore Thomas," he waited in his room until the players were in their places. Then he marched out before their astonished gaze and turned his back.

"Now laugh," he said, and added with peculiar emphasis, "unless."

The most famous beard in the world was blue in color. Monsieur Charles Perrault, author of that nervous delight of the nursery, "Bluebeard," was Superintendent of Public Buildings in Paris under Colbert. He retired in early middle age to devote himself to literature and the education of his children and wrote for their amusement a book of immortal fairy legends. It contained, in addition to "Bluebeard," tales of equal fame in "Little Red Riding Hood," "Sleeping Beauty," "Cinderella," and "Puss in Boots."

The cruel husband with the azure beard, whose disobedient wife found the corpse of her predecessor in the room she was forbidden to look into, was actually taken from life, says Edwin Valentine Mitchell in "Concerning Beards."

During a visit King George and Queen Mary made to the Ideal Home Exhibition, the Queen's chief joy was reserved for the gardens. She called her husband to look at a group of starry-eyed gentians, which had been coaxed into growing at the side of a little pool.

"Don't you think we might try some of these in the rock-garden, George?" she said, thinking of Birmingham.

The King thought they were charming, but told his wife laughingly not to have them planted in the part of the grounds where "Happy" the dog—was allowed to wander.

"Happy likes eating small flowers," said the King, "he thinks they won't be noticed."

Soup Spoon Need Not Imitate Saxophone

New York.—College youth had something new to worry about last week—how to learn to eat soup and sip soup silently.

Both can be done, too, according to Mary Perin Barker, wife of a Columbia dean.

Pointing out, among other things, that a soup spoon need not be played like a saxophone, Mrs. Barker has written a handbook for college men on "the technique of good manners." She wants a souping kit in every restaurant.

"The idea that these things are women's, she is worn out."

Mrs. Barker makes one concession to the campus dinner-set: "the male," she proclaims, "despite statements to the contrary, may properly be allowed to cut the salad."

Other Barker bits:

"In mat-mony aim high. You as college men are the potential leaders of the next generation."

MAY MEETING

conditions in town and try to keep our town neat and clean. If we allow inferior buildings we are going to have squalid conditions," concluded the Mayor.

A building permit was granted to Earl Cromwell, Mountain St. No action was taken on the one referred to above.

10% Penalty Eliminated
Reeve Mogg commanded the provincial government on the change in the Municipal Act, making the penalty for arrears of taxes the same in all municipalities. In municipalities such as Grimsby the charge will be one-half of one per cent. per month instead of 10% which had previously been added.

Appropriate Services
It was moved by Councillors Bourne and Chivers that a vote of thanks be tendered the ladies of the Welfare Board for their most unselfish service and most especially Mrs. Urice who has given so much time to the cause.

Court of Revision
A bylaw was passed fixing the Court of Revision for June 8th at 8 p.m., the court to comprise Mayor McFarlane, Reeve Mogg and Councillors Lewis, Wilkins and Palmer.

Jubilee Participants Thanked
On motion of Councillors Lothian and Wilkins the council placed on record its appreciation of the work done by the ladies of the I. O. D. E., the local ministers, Mr. McWayne, G. L. Eaton, the Grimsby Band, Mrs. Moore, the A.P.P.A. and all those who helped to make possible the local celebration of His Majesty's Silver Jubilee.

Grant To Band For Services
The finances of the band were again the subject of discussion and it was decided to reimburse them for expenses incurred in connection with the Silver Jubilee celebration on motion of Councillors Wilkins and Chivers. It was granted $32 to cover outlays on that occasion.

A committee is to meet with a view to devising ways and means of securing funds for the band so that it can carry on.

The instance of the report of the May meeting will appear in next week's issue, being held over owing to lack of space.

If you want a truly modern car at the lowest cost, be wise—choose a Master Chevrolet! Here is why: Chevrolet is the only lowest-priced car of 1935 that gives you a full complement of 1935 features! The new TURBO TOP roof construction, for example. Do you realize that no other car in Chevrolet's class offers you this modern, overhead protection of solid, seamless steel?

Then there's KNEE-ACTION. Do you know that the Master Chevrolet is the only low-priced automobile that gives you the Kne-A-Action "giving ride"—and balanced weight in the bargain?

That is only mentioning 7 of Chevrolet's 5 exclusive features. We could go on to talk about Cable-Controlled Brakes—Fisher No-Draft Ventilation—and the Blue Flame Engine.

But if you will simply demand the modern protection of a solid steel roof above you—and the modern riding ease of Knee-Action wheels under you—you can't go wrong in choosing your next new car. You'll choose a Master Chevrolet, for quality that is all the more modern because the cost is so low!
